TWO CENTS

OLD "FIGHTING TENTH" MAINTAINS REPUTATION ON THE BATTLEFIELD

Two Companies Lose 53 Men In First Day's Fight With Germans

IS ADDING TO ITS GLORY

The annual reunion of the old "Fighting Tenth" will be held at Connellsville next Tuesday, the anniversary of the fall of Manila, Philippine Islands, in which this regiment took part twenty years ago. At the reunion the principal speakers will be Hon. T. S. Crago, of Waynesburg, and Hon. Bruce F. Sterling, of Uniontown.

The reunion is expected to be a memorable one, for while the veterans of the Spanish-American war and of the Philippine Insurrection are holding their reunion among the scenes of peace and plenty, the old regiment, still in existence, now designated the 110th Infantry, United States Army, is winning additional glory on the battle fields of France.

From two companies of this famous fighting organization now in the midst of the battle fifty-three officers and men are reported as missing in action. Company C, of Somerset, reports its Captain, two lieutenants and 17 men missing. From Company B of New Brighton, a lieutenant and 17 men are missing. Other Companies also suffered casualties, Company A, of Monongahela, losing five men killed and six wounded to date.

As one of the officers wrote after the first few days of fighting, the first battalion of which Major Joe Thompson is the commander, was the heaviest engaged in the recent offensive. "The small portion of the regiment did enough that Monday to maintain the reputation of the whole regiment for all time," he said.

The casualty and missing lists are naturally slow in coming in, but the details of the regiment's conduct as revealed in the letters that have arrived since the opening of the drive shows that the famous old command is more than living up to its past reputation as the "Fighting Tenth" or as it is now known, the "Fighting One Hundred and Tenth."

FORMER CHARLEROI WOMAN DIES IN WASHINGTON, D. C.

Mrs. William Adams, a former resident of Charleroi, died at her home in Washington City, Thursday, August 8, after a long illness. The remains were brought to Monongahela this morning, where religious services were held in the mortuary chapel at 2 o'clock. She will be buried beside her husband, the late William Adams, who died in Charleroi about eight years ago. Mrs. Adams' only daughter, Mrs. James Schnellbach, who lived with her mother in Washington, accompanied the remains. S. James, Superintendent of the Alacbeth-Evans glass plant, and other officials, attended the funeral services.

LOSS AT PITTSBURG STEEL DOCK, $4,000

The estimated loss at the Pittsburgh Steel dock at Wireton, damaged by fire Thursday evening, is estimated at $4,000. About 400 feet of the river track was destroyed, and the engine and boiler house destroyed. The company suffers the greater loss in the inconvenience caused by the damage to the plant, as much of its coal and coke supply was received in this way. Work of repairing will begin just as soon as material can be secured.

THOUSANDS TO REGISTER

New Regulations Will Add One-Third More Than In 1917

PRECINCT BOARDS WILL SERVE

Draft boards in Washington county have received instructions from the state headquarters with reference to the new registration regulations, which Congress is expected to enact into a law after it reconvenes on the 26th of August.

This bill, which is now before the military committees in both the House and Senate, provides for the registration of all men between 18 and 21, and 31 and 45 years. To register such a large number of men will require quite an army of registrars, and the different local boards are already engaged in making the selections for this important task. They will endeavor to secure the same boards that performed the task in 1917, owing to their familiarity with the work. But if this is not possible, other men will be secured.

It is estimated that the new registration will be at least one third larger than in 1917, which, it can be seen at a glance, will require a great deal of work on the part of the various precinct registration boards in different parts of the districts. In the Fourth district of Washington county, for instance, with headquarters at Ellensburg, there 4,200 men registered in 1917; an increase of one-third of this number would mean the addition of 1,400 men, or a total of 5,600 registrants. In the Fifth district, with headquarters at Donora, over 5,100 men were registered in 1917, and a one third increase would mean the addition of 1,700 men, or a total of 6,800 new registrants.

Boards will be appointed for every precinct in the various districts, that the work may be pushed as vigorously as possible, and closed up in one day. The date will likely be in the first week of September.

Delinquents Directed to File Questionnaires

The following list of 1918 registrants, delinquent, who failed to submit questionnaires, will call at the local board headquarters, room 205, post office building, Donora, Pa., at once and file the same, otherwise they will be reported to the Adjutant General and their cases handled accordingly:

18. Paul Drost, 530 Thompson avenue, Donora, Pa.
20. James A. Rodgers, Allenport, Pa.
54. Garland H. Crockett, Box 169, Donora, Pa.
110. Claude Woodward, 600 Fallowfield avenue, Charleroi, Pa.
114. James Georgeff, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, Charleroi, Pa.

148. John Pelipko, Chestnut St., Donora, Pa.
205. Matt Duertch, 742 Meldon Avenue, Donora, Pa.
230. John Kovack, 1137 Meldon Avenue, Donora, Pa.
249. Joe Kolar, Seventh street, Donora, Pa.
254. Wilbert Grimm, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., Charleroi, Pa.
265. Mike Repka, 782 Waddell avenue, Donora, Pa.
268. George Denstley, 607 Waddell Avenue, Donora, Pa.
275. Thos. Perckovitch, Van Voorhis, Pa.
301. Chas. Fatoma, 212 Factory street, Monongahela, Pa.
317. Harry Miles, 831 Shady avenue, Charleroi, Pa.

WESTWOOD IS HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

Thomas Westwood of Nutt hill, Carroll township has been held to await the action of the grand jury in the death of William, alias "Buck" Malee, on Nutt hill, near Black Diamond last Sunday evening.

An inquest was conducted at Donora on Friday by Deputy Coroner Rabe. The defendant was not present. He is in the county jail, having given himself up the past week and admitted that he had shot Malee.

Mrs. Malee testified that on last Sunday evening about 11 o'clock she heard her husband scream and heard shots fired. She hurried out from the house. She heard a sister of Westwood say to her brother, "Tom, what have you done?" Westwood's reply was, "I have shot 'Buck' and you'll see I would and I did." When Mrs. Malee came up to where they were, Mrs. Malee said that Westwood said to her, "I shot 'Buck,' and I have one more load in the gun and I will shoot you if you say a word."

The previous trouble the men had was not gone into, though it is known they were not good friends. It is understood they had quarreled earlier in the day, while drinking at a club.

BEEF RESTRICTIONS ARE SUSPENDED

Restrictions in the consumption of beef in public eating places, and voluntary restrictions on householders, were removed on Friday by the food administration. The regulations rescinded by this action prohibited serving beef more than once a day in restaurants and hotels, and limited domestic consumption to one and a half pounds a person weekly. Retailers are asked to purchase lighter cattle, and the public is asked to patriotically accept although used to heavier beef, that the Allies may have the heavier grades which are required for export.

NO MATERIAL FOR PLEASURE CARS

Manufacturers of passenger automobiles were advised on Friday to use plants for war work, and cautioned them to do so not later than January 1, 1919. In a letter addressed to the National Automobile association it was stated in no other way could they be assured of their organization.

The letter was in response to a proposal on the part of the manufacturers to curtail the passenger car industry 50 per cent. The war industries board learned that the present situation regarding sales and other materials needed for war work gave better assurance even after deciding the war requirements. Pending receipts by the board on materials on hand last July, no materials will be given to passenger car manufacturers, the letter states.

MACCABEES ENJOY SOCIAL HOURS AFTER INITIATION

At the regular meeting of the Lady Maccabees, held Thursday evening, a class of six members was initiated. After the business session a social hour was spent, when all present went to Wagner's confectionery and had refreshments. At the next meeting, which will be held August 22, captains will be elected for the Victory contest, and another class of candidates will be initiated.

NEW MONESSEN PASTOR IS NOW IN CHARGE

Rev. J. R. McFarland, formerly of West Newton, and recently chosen as pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Monessen, has moved with his family and is now domiciled in the personage at the corner of McKee avenue and Sixth street. Monessen took over the charge of his work last Sunday.

LOW WATER RESPONSIBLE FOR ELECTRIC CURRENT SHORTAGE

CASUALTY LIST FALLS HEAVY ON PENNSYLVANIA

That the Pennsylvania troops are doing their share of the fighting along the western battle front in France is shown by the fact that in the casualty lists given out by the war department on Friday, which contained 623 names, including army and marine corps, 239 were from the Keystone State. This large list is due to the fact probably that the Twenty-eighth Division may be still in the thick of the contest. This Division is made up almost exclusively of the old National Guard of the state.

Non-Essentials Cut Out To Supply War Industry Plants

DEMAND HEAVY FOR POWER

The interruptions of local electrical current supply which have been quite noticeable in Charleroi for several days past, are due to a number of causes, the primary one being the scarcity of water near the main power station just above Connellsville.

The water supply is drawn from the Yough river, but owing to the continued dry spell has been at such a low stage that the power plant has had the greatest difficulty in getting enough water to run its condensers. This has caused the management to introduce a system, whereby the various towns in the West Penn circuit are cut out at intervals during the day, as for instance Charleroi has been shut off in the forenoons, for possibly five or ten minutes at a time.

The West Penn Company, in a measure, is operating under government directions, and consequently is compelled to supply current to those industries working on essential war materials, and thus it is that all coal mines and other industries of the essential class are given power at all times. It is the aim of the company to cut out only the non-essentials as far as possible, and then to keep the current on the shortest possible time.

There have been other occasions during which the West Penn is required to supply power to the Duquesne Light company, which causes an overload in certain districts, and consequently some localities have to be cut out for short periods of time.

The government requires the electric plants in this section to operate all their machinery in order to produce as much current as possible for power purposes, that all war essential industries have a full supply, and this the company is endeavoring to do. Of course there are breakdowns and other interruptions, which causes the power to be off at certain intervals, but the officials of the company are using every endeavor to keep the supply as near normal as possible.

Mrs. Mary Buchanan and son James of McKean avenue have gone to Camp Merritt where they will visit with Mrs. Buchanan's son Frank.

EVERYBODY IS HAPPY

Belle Vernon Bakers Comply With the Law, Says Enterprise

ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL

Everybody is happy over the ending of the bread controversy between the Belle Vernon bakers and the Food Administrator of Charleroi, according to the Belle Vernon Enterprise, which in its issue of the 9th inst., says:

"Charleroi's food administrator seems to be happy now and tells the Mail a nice little story about forcing Belle Vernon bakers to use the proper amount of substitutes. He claims that on July 19, 20, 21 and 22 he purchased bread at which time no cereals were found in the bread. On the 24th another try was made, and the bread contained cereals. Now if Mr. Darby is satisfied others ought to be. Baker Camino says he is making the same kind of bread he has made for some time and patrons say it is the same kind they have been eating for some time, so why should anybody worry? Why, indeed."

EARLY CONVERSION OF BONDS DESIRED

The United States Treasury Department desires that holders of First and Second Liberty bonds who wish to have their holdings converted into four and one-fourth per cent bonds should turn them in without delay, in order that conversion may be completed without delay as far as possible before the department is overwhelmed with business connected with the issue of the Fourth Liberty Loan.

Bonds may be left with any of the local banks or trust company who will attend to the conversion without any charge to the owners of the bonds. The banks, too, will soon be occupied with the Fourth Liberty canvass and early action by the bondholders will be appreciated.

AS OTHER SSEE U.S.

A letter came to Mr. Hoover the other day, from a little girl in a Scotch mining town. She thanks him for the selfishness of the American people, contrasting them with the Germans, who she is "jolly well sure would not have the heart in them to look after any land but itself, unless they wanted something in return."

It makes you wonder just how unselfish you have been, to read these quaint little notes about the "food-stuffs" that have reached English homes through American self-denial.

They are rationed over there. The little Scotch girl says, "miss all the puddings and nice sweet meats, but we can live without them and I will economize as much as possible. When Saturday or Sunday night comes our sugar, butter, and jam are finished and we must wait till Monday before we can receive our rations. It is a hard time but if we mean to win this war, we must take what comes as long as it helps to shorten the war."

America, too, is on a ration, an honor or ration. Sugar is the food that is scarcest now. America, as source of supply for herself and her allies, is keeper of the books. She can abstract more than her share, but is on her honor not to.

Of all the sugar used in this country in 1917, from 66 to 72 per cent went directly into the households for domestic consumption. It is here that the country must reduce its demands. When the new crops begin to come in November, the shortage will be somewhat relieved. But for the present there is an absolute necessity that the country halve its use of sugar.

As Mr. Hoover's young correspondent said, we do miss the sweet-meats, but we, too, can get along without them. Fruits, especially dried ones like figs, dates, etc., contain a large amount of sugar. So sugar in granulated form is not the only way for us to have it. That is a necessity overseas, where our fighting is being done for us. If shortage of sugar seems hard for us, what would it be, should we stint those weary, mud-stained men of ours who march back to rest from the trenches of the Marne?

Our ration is two pounds per person a month, or less if possible. The ration is a matter of honor, of constant alertness as to whether we could not eat some things without the sugar trimmings.

America is pledged to send sugar across the seas, to save and scrimp, on it here. We've promised our soldiers, our allies, the neutrals dependent upon us, for their supply.

Now it's up to individual effort, and individual pledges.

Do you remember how the children say it?

"Cross my heart, on my honor, hope to die."

CAUSE FOR PROUD

Down in Oklahoma some days ago a puny-souled partisan, steeped in ignorance or indulging in the vilest form of malice, launched an attack upon Col. Roosevelt by declaring that he had secured commissions for all of his sons, but had placed them in positions of safety behind the lines where there was no possibility of their being injured. The statement was so grotesquely false as to deny itself, and yet it was published throughout the length and breadth of the land. It was not only a wholly unjustified attack upon Col. Roosevelt, but it was also a cruel slander upon his sons, who were at that moment in the front ranks.

The four sons of Col. Roosevelt distinguished their services in this war, all of them in combatant positions. Lieut. Quentin Roosevelt, of the flying squadron, has been killed in battle. Capt. Archie Roosevelt has been lying for weeks in a hospital under treatment for wounds received in action and which threaten to leave him permanently lame. Upon the same day that confirmation of the death of Quentin was received by his family they were also advised of the wounding of Major Theodore Roosevelt. It is stated that he has been sent to the hospital for treatment, though his injuries are not serious. The only one of the four Roosevelt boys who has not felt the sting of German weapons is Capt. Kermit Roosevelt, recently of the British army in Mesopotamia, who has been transferred to the American army. And he wears upon his breast the British military cross awarded for gallantry in action. Col. and Mrs. Roosevelt have reason to be proud of the blood of men they sent out to fight for their country; no wonder in the London Washington Post.

INTERNATIONAL DRAFT LAW.

No more can the slacker away from home enjoy the protection of two flags while serving his trait. The draft treaty between the United States and Great Britain, which has been ratified and immediately becomes operative, puts a resolute official hand upon the shoulder of both the Englishman, sojourning in America and the American residing in England. Under the new law neither government will need to reach its arm into the country of the other in order to round up its laggards lingering abroad, and so it is expected to work to the benefit of both nations while doing no injustice to individuals. A British citizen in America between the ages of 21 and 44 will be subject to our selective service law, Englishmen and Australians excepted until the empire applies compulsory service to those islands. All Americans in Great Britain or Canada between the ages of 21 and 31 will be drafted under the conscription laws of Great Britain—older men coming under the treaty provisions should Congress advance the draft age.

Having declined to report for duty under home flag, the slacker residing abroad must now serve under the flag of the country of his sojourn. Of course many Americans in England and Englishmen in America have already come forward. The new arrangement merely aims to comb both countries of persistent slackers, and no doubt this just solution of the problem will put an end to unworthy careers of such dodgers.

A DOUBLE DRIVE

The expected has happened on the western front. The British in conjunction with the French have launched an offensive against the army of the Bavarian Crown Prince, while the French and Americans are keeping the Imperial Crown Prince busy getting his army back to the Aisne. In launching this double offensive the Allies will make it impossible for the Germans to "switch" reserves from one sector to another, but will compel them to bring their support from the rear to strengthen their imperiled line.

The character of the offensive launched by the British has the "punch" in it, and is apt to win back a great deal of the country lost to the Germans earlier in the year. More than land will be gained, however. The Germans are beginning to realize that their armies are being whipped; that the Allies have the initiative and will keep the Huns guessing as to where the next blow will be struck; and in addition, the morale of the German army is undoubtedly on the wane. The superiority in numbers has undoubtedly come to Foch and he is in a position to launch strong offensives against the Huns. This latter feature will have a great deal to do with lowering the resisting power of the Germans, who are evidently having the handwriting on the wall interpreted to them by the terrible strokes which the Allies are handing them. The Beche is headed toward the Rhine, and while his progress at the present time is slow his speed is likely to be accelerated before many days pass by.

LOCAL TEAM WANTS TO PLAY FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

The Charleoi Yankees have issued a challenge to the Oakland Rebels, of Pittsburgh, to play for the junior base ball championship of western Pennsylvania. If the Pittsburgh team accepts it will mean a very interesting series of ball games, in which the locals will be backed to "bring home the bacon."

SUNDAY SERVICES AT THE CHURCHES

Methodist.

The order services of the Methodist and Lutheran churches will be continued Sunday with the services in the Methodist church at 10:45 a. m. Rev. C. A. Hartung, who returned from his vacation this week, will preach the sermon. His sermon subject will be "My Vacation." Sunday school in each church at 9:45 a. m. No evening services. Union service of all the churches in the Christian church at 8 o'clock. Sermon by Rev. C. A. Hartung, subject, "What I heard and saw at the camps."

Lutheran.

Sunday school at 9:45. The Lutheran congregation will worship in the Methodist church, at 11. Rev. Hartung will conduct the service and preach the sermon. Union sermon at the Christian church at 8. Rev. Hartung will occupy the pulpit. C. P. Bastian, pastor.

Washington Avenue Presbyterian. Sunday school at 9:45. Preaching at 11 o'clock by Rev. French. Sr. C. E. at 7 o'clock. Leader, Mrs. Leith. Union service at the First Christian church.

Disillusionment.

"When you see a cultured puffball rise up and pick at dem crinkly side whiskers o' his'n and smooze down dat fancy vest you are amazed at dem ponderosity o' de spectacle," said old Brother Buckaroo. "But when you listens to his transplavation you finds dat when you beheld dem whiskers and dat vest you seed it all. Ain't dat 'bout so. Brudder Jordan?"—Kansas City Star.

Possible Source of Tresses.

The other day I, with a neighbor's child, went to a hairdresser's establishment. The child has red hair. While I was buying various things the child was busy looking about. She finally discovered some false hair the color of her own and came to me with this question: "I wonder if my red hair was boughten here when I was borned."—Chicago Tribune.

Could Not Live Without Birds. "The value of birds to man is based principally on their feeding habits. Their greatest help is through their activity in eating harmful insects, their eggs and larvae. Without this constant aid, we would be powerless to protect our trees and crops from the ravages of caterpillars, beetles, borers and such creatures."

Universal Electricity.

The increasing use of electricity for household as well as business purposes has led to the prediction of universal water. The cost will be reduced to a minimum and it will be as unheard of to charge even a stranger for a nominal amount of electricity as to charge a water rat to the person who asks for a drink.

Always Have Danger Signal.

From the beginning of railroads in Great Britain a red necktie has been part of the uniform of trainmen and station employees. The object was that every railroad servant might have always something at hand to improvise into a danger signal when a red flag was not available.

Spanish Sulphur Deposits.

In the province of Murcia, Spain, there are a number of sulphur deposits. One of the most important of them is that of La Surata de Lorca, near the town of Lorca, the bed of which extends over a length of ten kilometers and a width of one to two kilometers.

Standard Specific.

Some facetious persons want to know what we polish the seat of our pants with to make them so bright and shiny. It's no "get-slick-quick" preparation, but an intangible and natural element known as tempt attritus.—Houston Post.

When Americans Were Heathen. The first foreign missionary society was established at London July 27, 1649, being a corporation under the title of "The Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in New England and the Parts Adjacent in North America."

Varying Depth of Clouds.

The clouds in thunder storms may be very deep—from two to five miles and more.

On the Road to Success. That young man is wise who makes a plan, organizes his ambition, and makes each day contribute something toward its fulfillment. Success often seems delayed, but it is surely on the way for those who are getting ready for it. Over the desk of the boy or girl struggling with hard lessons that may seem at the present quite useless, let it be written in letters of gold: "I will study and get ready, and maybe my chance will come."

Origin of "Algernon."

The name Algernon was originally "als Gernon," and was first applied to one of the crusading Percys. His name was William, but his fellow knights called him William als Gernon or Gernon, meaning William with the Whiskers, or just Whiskers for short. As Algernon the name has persisted in the family to the present time, and the tenth duke of Northumberland, who died recently, was Algernon Percy.

The Lute.

The lute has vanished. It was one of the oldest of instruments, and had a beautiful vibrant tone somewhat like that of the harp. But its size and complexity were against it. It had a long tail, and many strings, and while its size increased its power and range, it also increased its weight and made it cumbersome. The minstrel of today plays on the mandolin, the guitar or the banjo—and the lute is forgotten.

Washington Flag Etiquette. The United States flag always is hoisted over the senate or house of representatives when in session. The flag floats from the flagstaff of the White House while the president is in Washington, and its absence indicates the absence of the president from the capital. It is displayed over the department buildings in Washington from 9 o'clock a. m. to 4:30 p. m. every week day.

To Calculate Interest.

A rule often recommended for calculating interest for short periods is as follows: To find the interest of any given sum for any number of days, multiply the principal by the number of days and divide as follows: At 5 per cent, by 72; at 6 per cent, by 60; at 7 per cent, by 52; at 8 per cent, by 45, and at 9 per cent, by 40.

Food Value of Fish.

The high worth of fish as a food is strongly upheld by the Journal of the American Medical Association, noting that fish must be better cared for than some other forms of animal food, but concluding "it is no just criticism of fish to say that they may be harmful unless properly cared for."

Goal Always to Be Sought.

The greater good lies beyond the eyes, to be reached for but not touched, impalpable, unattainable, never despoiled of, never found, always in the prospect, never in the experience, something certain for the future, something unknown to the past.—Clifford Raymond.

Origin of Honeymoon.

To the ancients honeymoon was a luxurious beverage prepared with the sirupy secretion of the bee. It was the custom to drink of this diluted honey for 30 days, or a moon's age, after a wedding feast. Hence arose the term honeymoon, which is of Teutonic origin.

Barley Long Known to Man.

Barley was originally a wild grass of western Asia. It is believed to be the most ancient cultivated vegetable food of mankind. Three varieties of the grain have been found in the prehistoric lake dwellings of Switzerland, dating back to the Stone Age.

Count Your Pulse.

A new-born baby's pulse should beat from 130 to 140 times per minute; a year-old child's 115 to 130; a four-year-old's 80 to 90; an adult's from 70 to 75, and an aged person's from 60 to 75.—Woman's World.

Budding Diplomat.

"Willie," said his mother, seeing him eating a piece of candy, "did I say you could have a piece of candy?" "Well," said Willie, "you didn't say that I couldn't."

Reason for It.

A millionaire merchant says: "My success is probably due to the fact that at night I store my mind and during the day I mind my store."

Plenty of Room to Grow.

Australia, which is 23 times larger than the whole of the British isles, has a population not exceeding that of London.

Few Whites in India.

Compared with India's 314,000,000 dark-skinned natives, that country has but about 800,000 white inhabitants.

Glory for the Conqueror.

The more famous the vanquished the more famous the victor.—Don Quixote.

Optimistic Thought.

Suffer not your faith to be shaken by the sophistries of skeptics.

CASE AFTER CASE

Plenty More Like This in Charleoi

Scores of Charleoi can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement?

F. B. Parker, says: "For twenty-five years, I had rheumatic pains and at times I was unable to work. The trouble started with pains in my hips, and extended into my left limb. I was so bad off at one time that I couldn't work. I heard of a man who had been cured of kidney trouble by Doan's Kidney Pills and I got some at Lange's Pharmacy. They gave me relief in four days and continued use made me better. I am now feeling fine and I can say that Doan's Kidney Pills are the best kidney medicine on the market."

Terrible Sores

No Matter How Chronic, Henning's Drug Store and Piper Bros., Druggists, Guarantee San Cura Ointment to Give Relief and Often Permanent Cure

"My daughter was troubled for over a year with a fever sore on her leg, and was helpless in bed for three months. To the great surprise of all, including the four doctors who had attended her, San Cura Ointment healed the great sore in less than six weeks."—J. D. Hood, Townville, Ia.

Karl C. Banks, of the Atlantic Refining Co. of Pittsburgh, had a sore on his ankle for a year. He doctored and tried various remedies, without relief. He says: "San Cura Ointment worked like a charm; reduced the swelling and healed the sore in two weeks."

Bear in mind, that besides sores, San Cura Ointment is used with great success in eczema, boils, carbuncles, salt rheum, tetter, also itching, bleeding and protruding piles. In cases of burns, scalds, cuts and bruises, San Cura is most valuable. The price is only 30c, 60c and $1.20 a jar and Henning's Drug Store and Piper Bros., Druggists guarantee it.

COMPLEXION SOAP

If you want a lovely complexion, with soft, velvety skin, free from pimples and blackheads, use San Cura Soap, the great antiseptic and skin purifier. 25 cents a cake at Henning's Drug Store and Piper Bros., Druggists.

If you can't get it at your druggist, send to The Thompson Medical Co., Titusville, Pa.

YOUR NEWSPAPER

There is one stronghold in every community that the mail order house has not been able to reach. This is the home town newspaper. In face of all kinds of bribery the Home Newspaper has stood its ground for forty years and steadily refused the advertising patronage of the mail order houses. Right now millions are being spent by the "catalog kings" in a continuous attempt to secure as an ally the Home Town Newspaper. But the country editor is standing solidly by his Home Community. He refuses to "sell out" to the enemy. He turns down all kinds of inducements. Let us think of this, the next time we are tempted to flicker with the enemy of our Home Town. Let us take the stand taken by our newspaper. Let us refuse to be bribed by a seeming bargain.
